Bats That Csn Swim.

I was once watching a little stream near Gulsborough, lu Cleveland, where It widened out abova a neglected weir. It was about mid-day lu summer. A small bat flew out of some cranny in the rocks, I dare say, and fluttered over the poul. Perlups it was duzzled by the light of the shimmering of the water. Anyhow it foll into the middle of the pool, and I thought lt would be drowned. However, it managed to oar itself with its wings to the opposite bank, and there cropt away among the bushes—n drnggled, deplorablelooking object. This summor I was watching a pond one still, misty evenlng. It was about sunset and numbers of bats came out and linwked files ing from which, mingled with the iron and formed tannate of Iron, causing the water to turn black as lak and bitwer the water. The Singular Manner in Which e Hell-Storm Destroyed Them.

The story of the poisoning of Dawho Lake, in Georgetown County, hy a hall-storm, as telegraphed, and which many persons supposed to he "fishy," has been corroborated in every parnas been corroborated in every particular by a prominent citizen of Georgetown, who had investigated the matter at the request of General Greely, chief of the Signal Service.
A dense mass of black gum trees surrounds the lake on all sides ft is well known that the leaves of this tree are strongly imprognated with tannic acid. It has also been ascertained that the bottom of the lake contains a slight deposit of iros. The polsonlsg of the water, therefore, is thus explained. The half-storm bruised and filled the lake with the ienves and small hranches of the trees; the tunio neld emanat-
